SIR

On behalf of the Trustees of the Devaraj Bahadur Charity Education Fund I beg to submit for submission to His Highness the Maharaja the report for the years 1909 and 1910

Enclosures A and B contain the particulars of students who received scholarships in the month of October

This month has been chosen because the list of recipients was then generally full Enclosure C contains the statement of accounts

During the period under review

M V N N mm y g
M Sh m R M A
B R m k h R
A M h d S were appointed trustees to fill up vacancies caused by the death of

M T R A Th mb Ch y
B M ll pp
E Ch d mb ly
A R N y S

In this period about 50 widow pupils received help with scholarships from the fund

While reporting on the progress in general it is to be noticed that the progress of widow pupils helped from this Fund in several of the out station girls schools other than those in the district head quarters was found unsatisfactory on account of inferior teaching and from indifference and absence of diligence on the part of the pupils While female education itself is much less appreciated the education of widows has not made any impression Hence no appreciable progress has yet been made in the education of girl widows in the Taluk Kasaba girls schools and in smaller centres proportionate to the labour and money spent The opening of a Widows Home in Mysore under the direct benevolent patronage of His Highness the Maharaja forms the keystone of the scheme of the education of widows A few widow pupils from different parts of the State have joined the Widows Home The progress made here by some of these was remarkable while on the whole it was far more satisfactory than in the mofu sil girls schools A period of three years is the averaget ime for an adult widow pupil of fair intelligence to appear for the Kanarese Lower Secondary Examination as per experience in this Institution To quote an instance A widow pupil who had been a scholarship holder from this Fund for about five years was reading in the Nagar girls school for the Lower Secondary Examination She appeared from that school in 1907 but failed She then came to join the Widows Home in Mysore where she was found far from fit for the V Standard and it required two years of a systematic course of instruction to bring her up to that standard There was another pupil of a similar stamp from Koratagere The contrast between the progress of the pupils studying in the Widows Home in Mysore and those in the girls schools described above is very striking Consequently it is desirable to get backward pupils up from outside girls schools to join the Widows Home here for preparation

Some of those girls schools teaching up to the III Standard make a feeble effort to send up pupils to the Lower Secondary Examination but the education is inferior and unsatisfactory For these reasons the widow pupils from out stations joining the Widows Home Mysore are given preference in the award of scholarships

A retrospect of the education of widows which commenced under the patronage of this Fund may not be found uninteresting here

Within five years after the opening of the Maharanee s Girls School (now college) the education of girl widows was considered necessary with a view to training them as School Mistresses as the married girls were taken away early to undertake the cares and functions of family life Also the education of poor orphan girl widows demanded attention for the amelioration of their condition For while the education of the depressed classes is engaging the attention of the public that of our orphan girl widows i far more imperative But the ignorance and prejudice of orthodox people which at first opposed even ordinary female education severely condemned this work of humanity and progress Consequently this movement has been quite an up hill work

The early admissions in the Maharanee s College were brought about as follows —

Home teaching was organised with a few elderly orthodox pandits as teachers attached to the Maharanee s College They went about to teach in their own houses elderly girls or young women several of whom were widows And these Home Students were given scholarships They were required to attend the college once a month to be examined in the lessons they had done Gradually some of these widow pupils were drafted to the college itself as regula students This process tended to the training as teachers of grown up pupils

Two temporary Widows Homes one at Melkote and the other in Mysore the former known as Sadhu Sadan and the latter as Savitri Sadan both worked by private agency prepared a number of widow pupils for admission into the Maharanee s College

His Highness the late Maharaja was graciously pleased to sanction that a portion of the interest of the Deva Raj Bahadur Charity Fund should be utilised for the grant of scholarships to widow pupils The example set in Mysore the capital of the State for the attendance of widow pupils at school was followed in Bangalore Tumkur and other District Head quarters and latterly at Taluk head quarters and certain other mofussil stations also

The demand for scholarships increasing with the increased attendance the Government very generously instituted a few State Widow Scholarships to the extent of Rs 230 a month while the Deva Raj Bahadur Fund contributed Rs 207 Scholarships from these two sources have been spread over the whole State supporting about 140 widow pupils under tuition including those in the Maharanee s College

This system of encouraging the education of girl widows all over the State with a central Widows Home located in Mysore working towards the same end will it is hoped prove in course of time an ample feeder for the Maharanee s College for higher education and turn out educated young women with the requisite qualifications to enable them to earn their livelihoods in the various departments which are appropriately considered woman s field

The scholarship holders of the Deva Raj Bahadur Charity Fund are at present from the following institutions —

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| I | BANGALORE | 1 C y G m t G l Sh l2 Ch m j p t G l S hool |
| II | TUMKUR | Emp G l Sh l |
| III | MAGADI | G m t G l Sh l |
| IV | MYSORE | 1 M h C ll g2 W d w H m |

During the period under review a larger number of applications than formerly were received It was felt a pity not to take advantage of the same to help the applicants with scholarships although the exact monthly limit of the income had to be exceeded In several instances plague had carried off their boy husbands and the girl widows thus left helpless for life were enabled under the influence of education to feel an interest in life

To meet the large demand the limits of the income of the Fund had to be exceeded as on a former occasion as shown in the report of the years 1903 1905 And this time the excess of the expenditure over the income is Rupees 899—6—4 to be recouped from the income of the next period either by limiting the number of scholarships to effect the required saving or by securing help from private sources

A list (D) is also appended to this report of scholarship holders from this Fund who received appointments as school mistresses midwives or nurses

It will be seen therefrom how much good ha been done in fullfiling the object of this Fund

It is to be noted that the somewhat elderly orthodox widows trained as teachers and sent out in the early first and second batches as school mistresses into district schools although they may not have proved very efficient teachers have popularised female education in their respective centres by the sympathy and respect they command from the people for their orthodox habits and character

It may not be inapt here to state that the example set in Mysore of encouraging girl widows with scholarships for education has been followed by the Education Department of Madras who have instituted a large number of scholarships with guardian allowances to encourage the widow pupils in their girls schools And the need is felt for Widows Homes in different parts of India The Social Conferences of late laying stress on this subject afford a sure indication that the leaders of Hindu Society realize their duty to ameliorate by education the condition of the unfortunate girl widows whose numbers have only to be reckoned by thousands all over India

In conclusion I beg to accord my hearty thanks to the trustees for the uniform support they have given me

I have the honor to be
Sir
Your most obedient servant

A Narasimhayengar
Honorary Secretary
